No worries, I didn't even notice any tenseness. Somehow, I didn't receive the initial draft on Friday. I've given my comments/questions to Bob Brobst early this morning so they're collated. I can always talk over the phone if that's easier. Thank you for your efforts on this, as well. - lw

Hey sorry Laura, I realized that my last email probably sounded terse. I'm not sure why Martin is asking the question he did in his email to you since he directed us to provide the draft to him prior to any release. I'm sure there is so much going on that folks can't keep track of all the moving parts – it's frustrating and I can't even imagine how it is for you right now. Anyway, thanks for all you are doing in Durango. Know that we really appreciate you and everyone else that is working so hard on this. The last thing I want to do is add to your frustration or stress, so I apologize if that is so. If you or others in Area Command have additions or comments, please let me know.

Thanks,

Sandie

Direction given by Martin/Sandy to prepare a straw-man by COB last week for internal review. Dan Wall, Wendy O'brien, Susan Griffin, Maggie Pierce, Karl Hermann others from incident command provided input and content – EP folks drafted document for input. It was sent to Area Command and Incident Command on Friday for input with request for comment by mid-day Monday. No comments received.

There was no expectation for state or local input at this point. In fact, clear expectation that document would not be shared externally prior to R8 review. Just went out to other regions and HQ late yesterday.

The post-incident, long-term monitoring plan developed by the WQ program is a first cut, so that others have something to respond to. The sequence of events has been:

- R8 develops,
- Share it internally for review (It was provided to Laura, Steve, and Bob B. Friday and to R's 6, 9, OEM and OW and ER again Monday);
- receive comments (due COB Wednesday)
- revise and send to locals, tribes and states for review. (later this week)

This draft was developed by Bert Garcia (primarily Sandy Spence) without Area Command involvement or input from Regions 6 or 9. I am unaware if Colorado or LaPlata County were involved. I will review it tonight. - lw

I presume unified command is involved and was wondering if we had coordinated with Colorado and Laplata county

Sounds reasonable. Is CO and the county on board?

Hi All,

I have received no comments on the attached draft document. So Martin, I believe it is ready for your input if you have time. We would like to send this out to HQ and the other regions today to get things moving. Any objections? Please let me or Bert know. I think we'd like to send the draft around this afternoon.

Thanks,

Sandie
